CRAZY TALK

Better Sane Than Sorry

We asked the DOWNTOWNAll-Stars a crazy question.
We got 8 perfectly rational answers. Now do your part and enjoy!

What food would you least like to get hit with during a food fight?

"Mayonnaise! I hate it! The smell of it makes me gag. Plus, the oil stains would be almost impossible to remove from your clothes."

RICK GRUDZINSKI

"I would have to say mustard. I can't stand it and would probably freak out if I ever ended up wearing it!"

AIME ESPIE

"I would hate to get hit with canned dog food. I'm not sure what's worse, the smell or the combination of strange ingredients."

JOHANNA SENA

"Spaghetti with marinara sauce. It would be too tempting to eat the pasta off of my clothing."

MICHAEL KAHN

"The one thing I would dodge during a food fight would be a tunafish sandwich. Although, the mayo might be good for my hair!"

GINA BROWN

"Bacon, because nobody in their right mind would throw bacon!"

JEFF BOONSTRA

"I can't stand the taste, or even the smell of pickles! Most of all, getting hit with a pickle would hurt like hell!"

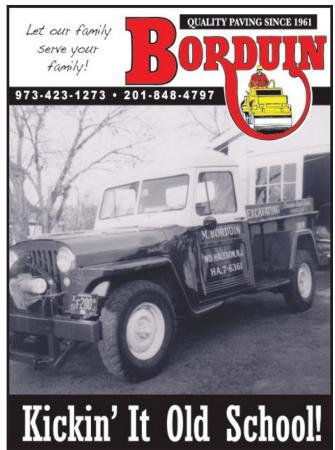

MICHELE MANNING

"I think getting hit with a roast beef would be tough for me. Not only would it hurt, but I'd feel like the cow was fighting back!"

KEN ROSS

Dianne Kelly, CPA

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT

- Tax Preparation & Accounting for Individuals & Businesses
- Electronic Filing Tax Planning
- IRS & NJ Tax Negotiations
- Member of NJSCPA & AICPA
- IRS Negotiations & Mediation
- Quarterly & Y/E Payroll Tax Returns
- Financial Statement Preparation
- ☼ Estates & Trusts
- Convenient Appointments

Prompt & Courteous Service Member of NJSCPA & AICPA

973-427-5773

DianneKellyCPA@aol.com
VISIT MY WEBSITE
DianneKellyCPA.com

